PARTY OF SETTLERS ARRIVE

The first crowd of settlers to reach Mirror this spring arrived last week, the party numbering fifteen. Two carloads of settlers' effects were unloaded at the local G. T. P. yards and the newcomers, who hail from Kenora, Kansas, have moved on to farms in the vicinity of Mirror.

Of the arrivals, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ford and family are living on Roy Brewster's farm, also Arthur Ford, a brother. Mrs. Ford is a sister of Mrs. Jno. Rider's and Mrs. Elsner's, the latter coming from Kansas last fall. Mr. and Mrs. Gus Lambert and family have taken up their residence on the Sutley farm. There were also two other families by the name of Lamberti with the same party.

This is the largest body of settlers to reach Mirror at one time and it is to be hoped that it is only the forerunner of more. There is plenty of land in this part of Alberta to be settled on and Mirror is one of the best towns in Alberta for shipping facilities.

SIFTON MAY GO TO LONDON

Edmonton, March 19.—That Hon. Arthur Sifton will resign the premiership to accept a position as Alberta's commissioner and financial agent in Great Britain is a persistent rumor in political circles here. It is further reported that Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of public works, will succeed to the leadership of the government and that there will be a general switching about of the portfolios. Hon. C. W. Cross, the attorney-general, one of the Liberal administration, has been in Ottawa for some time and it is the assumption that he has been consulting with Sir Wilfrid Laurier and others of the Dominion Liberal party respecting the proposed change in the Alberta lineup. What the result of his mission has been, is not announced, but it is said that Hon. Mr. Sifton is determined to rid himself of the cares of office at the earliest possible moment and that he has already laid the foundations for the establishment of profitable business connections in the Old Country.

He will, it is stated, succeed Agent General Reid, of Medicine Hat, as commissioner, but Mr. Reid will be retained without the title but with the salary he has been getting. In fact it is asserted that when Mr. Reid took the post it was intimated that he need not be surprised if developments similar to those now on the tapis, were to take place. That Mr. Sifton has been quietly preparing for the move is alleged to be indicated by the transfer of his private stenographer to the London office at the time Mr. Reid took the position.

Hon. Chas. Stewart was formerly minister of municipalities, but was recently promoted to the public works department, Wilfrid Laurier asking the municipalities portfolio. Hon. Mr. Sifton has been premier since 1910, when he took office following the wreck of the Balfour government. Previous to that he was chief justice of Alberta. He sits for Vermillion. Mr. Sifton and his family are said to prefer English life to that in Alberta and this is one of the reasons, along with the attractive financial inducements, for his acceptance of the new position.

CONCERT BY R. N. HUGE SUCCESS

The Star Pool Hall proved far from last Monday evening to accommodate the large crowd that attended the Royal Neighbors concert, people coming from all the neighboring towns and a party of twenty two from Bay Harbour, situated across Buffalo Lake, were numbered amongst the audience. Every seat was taken, standing room was at a premium and a number were unable to even get inside the door.

It was, without any doubt, one of the best local entertainments ever held in Mirror and the efforts of the vocalists and players in the several acts were received with much appreciation and the applause was well merited.

The first number on the program, a solo by Mrs. Harris was followed by a short sketch entitled "Jenny Ray's Secret" by members of the Royal Neighbors lodge. The play dealt with the interpretation placed on a post card, which one of the gossiping ladies had read and who immediately proceeded to inform her lady friends. Instead of Jenny Ray entering wedlock, as they had presumed from the post card, it eventually turned out that she was joining the Royal Neighbors, and here followed statistics concerning the lodge. The ladies taking part were: Mrs.

W. Lowrey, Mrs. P. Neis, Mrs. G. Thomas, Mrs. J. Wright, Miss Pringle, Miss M. Lowrey, Mrs. N. Gaskill.

A bevy of chorus girls costumed in the very latest Parisian styles, with Miss Barton and P. M. Carmichael doing the vocal part of the act was greeted with great applause and drew two encores.

The principal item on the program and around which intense interest was centred was the three act comedy "My Awful Dad," played by members of the Mirror Amateur Dramatic Club. The play, as its title suggests, chiefly concerns the doings of "My Awful Dad," a widower of bohemian habits and highly susceptible to the charms of the fair sex, who leads a butterfly existence at the expense of his sober-minded son, Richard Evergreen, who is a barrister. The middle aged Adonis impersonates his son and seeks to give legal advice to a charming widow, who is desirous of fulfilling the conditions of her husband's will so that she may inherit a large sum of money. Needless to say the advice is highly advantageous to the giver. In the person of the lady, Adonis crosses the path of his son at the sea side and almost causes a rupture in the relations of

THE RESULT OF COW TESTING

There can be no question as to the bright light shed by dairy records on the actual performance of herds and the importance of the records. They are useful alike in proving the superiority of certain cows as well as the effect of good dairy practice.

For instance, records show that in one month a seven year old cow gave 1,430 pounds of milk but a seven year old in the same herd gave only 600 pounds. Again it was found that 22 cows averaged 545 pounds of milk. Cows that are kept as dairy cows fed and bred for production of milk and fat are proved by their records.
Even from amongst those so kept, selection is necessary, otherwise the herd will fall off in its average. But individual records, so easily kept, will point definitely to those which are worth keeping.

The value of a pure bred dairy sire is also revealed when comparing herds. One herd of 14 cows gave 300 pounds of fat in a month. In an adjoining herd of 14, where cow testing has been carried on for four years and where the sires pure bred, the yield was 550 pounds of fat in other words the increase was seventy-five dollars
more for that one month.

Be sure you take up cow testing this year, because it pays well.

SPRING

The Spring is coming—let her come! The bees will soon begin to hum and buzz around on gay wings, and lift us with their red-hot stings. The boy who is too tired and worn to help the old man plant some corn, will shovel for a fortnight straight to get a good supply of bait. The women will once more arise, the light of battle in their eyes, and clean
the house, from room to room, with mop and duster, rug and broom, while patient husbands seek the barn, and say such words as "Gee" and "Darn."
The Spring is coming—let her come! The hobo leaves the city slum, to roam through country fields and bogs, and dodge the same old farmers' dogs.
The agent, rested, full of zeal, comes forth with his impassioned spiel, with specious wiles and nerve to turn, and sell his patient safety chains.
And now by almost every mail, seed catalogues come by the bale, and men who deal in rust-proof cuts come forth and Lear away our goats. Such fills the vernal months will bring, and yet we're honing for the Spring.
For sunny skies and budding flowers, soft winds and plain and fancy showers! For warbling birds and growing grass,
and heaps of nice fresh garden
sass!—Walt Mason.

Here is the young child. There's children, however, looked disappointed, and finally a little boy piped out: "Teacher,

where's the flea?"

The remarkable success of Reckall Dyspepsia Tablets is due to the fact endorsed by the medical profession as available in the treatment of stom-

stimulate the secretion of gastric juice,

ODD ADVERTISING

Newspapers Used in Novel Manner to Moke Wants Known

About the last place in which one would look for advertising is the churchyard, but it has been demonstrated that even there, it is, that comes to the notice of the advertising advertiser. It is recorded of a certain shopkeeper, possessing a grim sense of humor that he had his grave dug some years before his death. On the marble he caused to be inscribed "Here lies John Henry, the Best Hatter in Ohio."

A Canadian firm went this one better. The senior partner having passed to his reward, his business associates erected a monument to his memory. The tombstone bore these words: "Here lies Abram Stokes, founder of the firm of Stokes, Stokes & Co., who for many years have manufactured pickles and bottled fruit. Best of all and without a rival."

For her late husband a grief-stricken widow across the ocean put up a stone with this touching inscription upon it: "Here lies —, dear departed husband of —, who now carries on his business of general outfitter and always gives good value for money."

Bill Nye, the lamented provoker of smiles, once had a cow to sell, or, professed to have, and he advertised the animal in this manner:

"Owing to my ill health, I will sell at my residence in township sixteen, range eighteen, according to the government survey, one plump raspberry, aged eight years. She is of an undoubted courage and gives milk plentifully. To a man who would not fear death in any form she would be a great boon. She is very much liked by her present owner, who has a stay chain, but she will be sold to anyone who will treat her right. She is one-fourth Borthorn and three-fourths Bysen. I will also throw in a double-barreled shotgun, which goes with her. In May she usually goes away for a week or two and returns with a fall red coat with wobbly legs. Her name is Rose. I would rather sell to a non-resident."

Another Englishman in his home paper boldly declared his want of a wife "who must be quite dumb and deaf, at least fifty years of age, and who talks music, old dress, pet dog and cat, and whose name is —."

"Here is an advertisement taken verbatim from one of the large New York dailies: "I have just arrived; have hands that love rest; brains marvelous in energy, depth, imagination, power, conception, organization, comprehension, instruction; am brilliant lecturer; noted journalist, clever linguist, competent mechanic, electrical engineer, fair typist, good automobilist, excellent demonstrator, known scientist, able physicist, mathematical expert, philosopher, conversationalist, expert pathologist, master occultist, inventor, patentee, hypnotist, traveler, etc., etc., appearance studious, thoughtful, manly, refined, bright, engaging, gentle, cordial; character and principle faultlessly honest, sincere, truthful, non-monetary; total abstemious; honest public, private references; willingly become private secretary, companion, tutor to anyone who appreciates such things; salary no question; good position essential."

INTERESTING MEMORIES

A Link With the Past Destroyed at Prince Albert

A great Prince Albert, Sask., which recalls many interesting memories started in the wreck of the old steamer "Marquis" and consumed most of it before being extinguished. Surely no vessel ever rendered greater or more varied service. In 1852 she entered the fleet of the North West Navigation Co., along with the "Manitoba" and "Northwest." The line at that time consisted of the "Northwest" and the "Lily." After making regular trips from Grand Rapids to Edmonton until 1884, the "Marquis" sailed up the South Saskatchewan river with troops for the rebellion, and at the time succeeded in running the blockade. When the railway lines came and the surrounding country caught the spirit of rapid development all the boats were considered too slow, even for freight, and so one by one they disappeared. The "Marquis" was pulled up at Prince Albert on the south bank of the river at a point near the Hudson Bay Co.'s reserve. After her heavier timbers had been required a homesteader took enough material for a shack, and a ferryman supplied himself with a new ferry. All that remains is about fifty feet of battered hull.

Alfalfa yields from two to three times as much as clover or timothy, and is more valuable hay. Alfalfa is the agricultural wonder of the twentieth century. Alfalfa contains more protein per acre than clover or corn.

SOME SHORT CUTS IN FIGURING INTEREST

The following will be found to be excellent rules for finding the interest on any principal for any number of days. When the principal contains cents, point off four places from the right of the result to express the interest in dollars and cents. When the principal contains dollars only, point off two places and proceed as follows:

Two per cent.—Multiply the principal by the number of days to run, and divide by 180.

Two and one-half per cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 144.

Three per cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 120.

Three and one-half per cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 108.80.

Four per cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 90.

Five per cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 72.

Six per cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 60.

Seven per cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 51.43.

Eight per cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 45.

Nine per cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 40.

Ten per cent.—Multiply by number of days and divide by 36.

Twelve per cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 30.

Fifteen per cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 24.

For example: Find the accrued interest on $1,000.00 for 121 days at 6%.

Point off two places, multiply 1.23 by $1,000, the result is $1,240.00, divide by 60, and you have $20.67, which is the correct sum in dollars and cents.

FARM SURVEYS

Some Points on Which Farmers May Make Improvements

P. C. Nunnick, of the Commission of Conservation, in referring to the work being done in regard to farm surveys and demonstration farms in Ontario, said the survey was conducted in five counties of the province and the number of farms visited was 200. Information was collected which went to show that Ontario farmers could improve their methods in a number of ways. Slightly less than half were not following a systematic rotation, merely growing different crops on the land from one year to the next. Not enough attention was paid to the varieties of grain grown. In Peterborough County, for instance, 17 varieties were grown. These could not all be best varieties. Weeds were gaining the ascendancy in many cases. On one farm 46 different weeds were found. One cause appeared to be that weed inspectors were lax in their duties. A fact, the significance of which could not be rightly, was that 93 per cent. of the farmers visited were taking no special means to preserve farm manure.

Blind Print For Blind

Blind women and girls of Washington are earning their living by making books for other blind persons. The work is in steady progress, and a shipment of books to the blind of other places could well be made. Braille type, read by the blind through their fingers, is now in international employment, and thousands of blind persons have been taught to read it. The result is that the demand for books printed in this way has far exceeded the supply.

REDUCTION IN COST OF PRODUCTION

The great agricultural, industrial, and commercial expansion of the last fifty years has forced every class of American and Canadian business men, including the farmer, to economize labor. Not in all the history of the world has such progress been made in the development of tools and machinery for the saving of time and labor and the cost of production during the last century in America. The prevention of waste of labor on the modern farm is not only a great economic gain, but it has lightened drudgery of farm labor and intellectual stimulus. The value of the regular farm laborer is now determined by his skill and directive ability, his honesty and reliability, rather than by his brute force.

While on some farms there is too little machinery and horsepower used to conserve the land properly and save human labor, on others there is too much. Careful statistical studies of farms in Minnesota have shown that horses are employed on an average only about three hours a day. At least two-thirds of their available energy, therefore, goes to waste making the cost of the energy used very high. The same is true of expensive tools which are used for a short period during the year. A farmer needs to figure very carefully before investing in corn shellers, shredders, threshers, power plows, etc., especially if the use of this needed machinery can be obtained at a reasonable rate or co-operative ownership arranged. The latter method will doubtless be the final solution.

The use of wide tires on wagons has made hauling easier and improved and packed rather than cut rut in the roads. The farmer who still uses narrow tires for loads is not only wasting time and horse energy but is guilty of cruelty to animals and the destruction of the public highways. The relation between weight of load and width of tire and the maintenance of the roads in each section should be carefully considered and fixed by local regulations.—Ex.

WHAT IS A CAPITALIST?

Labour men tell us, the most radical of them, that capital oppresses labour to whom it owes its existence. Now comes the Grain Growers' Guide, which says that the capitalist robs the farmer to whom they owe existence. Perhaps it might be wise to have a conference of trades unionists and farmers, and have them decide which of them have most claim to be the supporters and creators and victims of the capitalist.

At the same time, they might decide when a man is a capitalist. If he owns a $50 share in the Grain Growers' Grain Company on which he earns profits of 25 per cent, is he a capitalist? If not, would he be one if he owned $1,000 worth of stock? Again, if a man owns his own home and doesn't pay rent, is he a capitalist? If not, if he owns two houses and rents one is he in the hateful class?

If a labour union, or a number of unions, own a labour temple, and the land under it increases in value just as wicked people's property does sometimes, are they capitalists? Is the Grain Growers' Grain Company, which some years ago bought a piece of real estate in Winnipeg and erected an office and printing establishment on it, is it therefore a capitalist? If that land is now worth ten times what they paid for it, are they capitalists simply because they have appropriated the unearned increment to their own use?

If it is right for a grain grower to earn 25 per cent. on his stock in the Grain Growers' Company, is it right for a shareholder in a bank to earn six per cent. (that is the average) on his investment? If a grain grower is justified (and the Guide says he is) in getting all the profits he can out of his grain company, are the thousand and thousands of shareholders in the banks justified in taking dividends of ten, eleven and twelve per cent.?

The vital distinction between a nominal labour agitator or a wealthy grain grower, and a hard-working clerk who owns $5,000 worth of stock in a railway company, needs definition.—Canadian Courier.

J. Cornwall Fraser, a member of the tribe of blonde Eskimos living at the mouth of the Mackenzie river in the 60th parallel of latitude, has commissioned a local trading company to ship a typewriting machine, with the latest approved attachments, to his hut on the roof of the earth, 5,200 miles north of Edmonton. Fraser, who is a trapper, hunter and pathfinder, was educated in an English mission school at Point Barrow, one of the northern outposts. He has never been south of the 65th parallel, inside the Arctic circle. Officers of the trading companies operating in the district, report he is one of the best posted men in the far north country. The Reason Fewer People Take "Salts"

We find the use of salts and other harsh physics is becoming less every year because more and more people are using Russell's Salts, which we and they finally believe to be the best bowel remedy ever made. They last so much like candy that even the children like them. At the same time they act so easily and naturally that there is no purging, griping or pain. They promptly remove the constipation and, by soothing and strengthening the bowels, make it more liable to occur again. We know what they are made of and the pleasant, beneficial results that always follow their use.

You needn't take our word for it. If Russell's Salts don't help you, if they don't entirely relieve all your troubles—come back and tell us and we'll give back your money. In every pocket in London, 10s. 2s. 6d. You can have Russell's Salts only at The Local Store, and in this form only of us. Suggest's Bros., Mirror, Alta.

What is a Capitalist?

Labour men tell us, the most radical of them, that capital oppresses labour to whom it owes its existence. Now comes the Grain Growers' Guide, which says that the capitalist robs the farmer to whom they owe existence. Perhaps it might be wise to have a conference of trades unionists and farmers, and have them decide which of them have most claim to be the supporters and creators and victims of the capitalist.

At the same time, they might decide when a man is a capitalist. If he owns a $50 share in the Grain Growers' Grain Company on which he earns profits of 25 per cent, is he a capitalist? If not, would he be one if he owned $1,000 worth of stock? Again, if a man owns his own home and doesn't pay rent, is he a capitalist? If not, if he owns two houses and rents one is he in the hateful class?

If a labour union, or a number of unions, own a labour temple, and the land under it increases in value just as wicked people's property does sometimes, are they capitalists? Is the Grain Growers' Grain Company, which some years ago bought a piece of real estate in Winnipeg and erected an office and printing establishment on it, is it therefore a capitalist? If that land is now worth ten times what they paid for it, are they capitalists simply because

50,000 IN PARADE

This is to be one of the features of the Fourteenth Convention of the International Sunday School Association to be held in Chicago, June 23-30, 1914. The fifty thousand men will all be Bible students.

Train loads of men are to go into Chicago for the parade. The Alberta delegation will be in the line.

This parade is to be the greatest testimony to the dynamic influence of the Bible the world has ever witnessed. It will also celebrate reaching the goal set before the International Adult Bible Class Committee, namely, 50,000 Organized Adult Bible Classes in America.

These classes represent an army of over two million men and women.

Alberta's share of the fifty thousand classes is at least one hundred and fifty classes. There are ninety-five classes now enrolled in the office of the Alberta Sunday School Association, Calgary, and the General Secretary, F. E. Werry, has sent out an appeal to all parts of the province asking for the enrollment of organized adult Bible classes. All that is required to be numbered with the fifty thousand classes in America is to apply to Mr. Werry for an International Certificate of Recognition, but without this certificate a Class cannot be counted.

K. B. Iveson as "My Awful Dad" played the part to perfection, while P. M. Carmichael as his son Richard, carried off a most difficult part in splendid style. Mrs. Robinson, with her "Here I am, sir" was the typical landlady. The part of the rich widow, played by Miss Pringle, and the part of Lovekin's niece, by Mrs. Harris, were
